

Who Are We?

As the name implies, our company is based in St Helens, Merseyside, England. Our location doesn't mean that we only deal with local clients - quite the contrary. The beauty of the internet means that we are able to deal with anybody in any location.

Our staff have a wealth of experience and abilities, gained as the internet itself has evolved over the years. This experience means that St Helens Web Design are confident that we can handle your request both professionally and efficiently.
